“Yuki-rinrin” means:

1. We try many things with courage.

2. Each student has a chance to shine.

3. In the end we all come together.

From now on we will evolve.

Sports Day

Sports Day

Our junior high school holds sports day in May. The sports day started in 2017 as an independent sports day from the high school.

This year's theme was Immortality-connected hearts. This year the red team had the lead of one point against the white team. Red team won.

Both teams could unite together. The sports day was a heated day.

English Camp

We do it at Ogawarako Seinen no Ie.

We stay there for two days.

We study English and we can make a deep on bond with each other.

The English teachers are all fun. You can look at many ALTs.

The food is delicious.

English Camp is very fun.

But watch out for stinkbugs!

An Interview with Mr. Chojakubo

Q: Who is your hero?

A: Max Weber is my hero. He is an expert in the field of social science and a hero as a scholar. His thesis was a great shock to me.

Q: What points in our school do you like?

A: When I came to this school twelve years ago for the first time, I taught students both in junior high school and high school. I was moved by the students who greeted me with a smile cheerfully. Their greetings were deeply engraved in my mind.

Q: What is your favorite proverb?

A: My favorite proverb is "Self-fulfilling prophecy."

This is the phrase I always say to you. This means the thought, "I can do it" or "things will go well," affect peoples' actions unconsciously.

Finally, the thought leads to things becoming fact.

Q: What are your hobbies?

A: I am bad at throwing things away, including new skills, so I continue to start things. I have many hobbies. For example, studying lessons and subjects, writing things, making crops in soil, cooking, making pottery, trips including riding vehicles, taking photographs, fishing, reading books, collecting, and enjoying classical performing arts and art museums.

Q: What club were you in when you were a junior high school student?

A: I was a member of the kendo club.

Q: Please give students who are having trouble studying a message.

A: People who are having trouble with something seriously worry and such people can develop as a person.

People who think about themselves lazily don't worry about anything. It is good for you to believe that you are able to achieve a goal. I think people who think like this want to develop themselves.

However, you sometimes will be tired and the plan doesn't work as expected. However, hopes disappear when people quit.

The secrets of success in studying are: "Never give up," "Never succumb," and "Continue to do things."

If you are not good at doing these things, move your hands!

You can start with basic and simple work, remembering by moving your hands. The brain and hands are linked together.
